

National Museum of African Art Lagos

November 7, 2021
12h00–18h00 WAT

Alára
12a Akin Olugbade Street
Victoria Island 106104
Lagos, Nigeria

left to right | Iké Udé, Self-Portrait (detail), from the series, Make Life Beautiful: The Dandy In Photography, Brighton Photo Biennale, Brighton/Hove, UK; Temitayo Ogunbiyi, You will feel out of many one people (detail), 2019, varnished Japanese ink and acrylic on fabric, 54 x 36 inches, courtesy the artist; Emeka Ogboh, Market Symphony (detail), 2016, mixed-media sound installation, commissioned by Smithsonian National Museum of African Art

TASTE! MYSTIQUE

12h00–18h00 WAT
Click here to register

View an exhibition from hot emerging Nigerian photographers tutored by artist photographer Iké Udé. Take a self-portrait surrounded by opulent Nollywood-inspired backdrops in two bespoke interactive studio sets that depict fusions of cultural references from Africa and beyond.

Taste! Mystique is a three-part experience by Iké Udé that includes a master class at the African Artists Foundation, and a tableau vivant, living installation at the opening night of the African International Film Festival.

TASTE! MEMORY

12h00–15h00 WAT
Click here to register

Trigger the Lagos of your childhood, your ancestors, or yesterday when you taste, sip, and smell locally grown “botanical bites” shared by artist-curator Temitayo Ogunbiyi in collaboration with chef Renée Chuks.

TASTE! TRANSFORMATION

14h00–15h00 WAT/CET
15h00–16h00 CAT | 16h00–17h00 EAT
8h00–9h00 EST
Streaming live; links available at africa.si.edu
Click here to register

Join visionary leaders transforming the institutions and structures that present African talent locally and worldwide.

MODERATOR
Tokini Peterside, founder, ART X Lagos

PARTICIPANTS
Azu Nwagbogu, founder, African Artists' Foundation

Chioma Onyenwe, creative director, African International Film Festival

Ngairé Blankenberg, director, Smithsonian National Museum of African Art

TASTE! SOUND

16h00–18h00 WAT
Click here to register

Kick back and enjoy the sounds of Lagos like you've never heard them before with sound artist Emeka Ogboh.

Chat with the artist livestreaming from Berlin.

A multisensory, participative art experience curated by Temitayo Ogunbiyi exploring how food, sound, and portraiture can help us remember and recognize the complexity inherent in representation, ecosystems, and the performances within everyday life.

TASTE!